TO THE PUBLIC.

A DIRECTORY for Aberdeen and its vicinity has been long wished for, and strangers have often expressed their surprise at the want of it, in a City of so great extent, population, and commercial importance. A publication of this kind, however necessary, must have been very incomplete, before the Houses and Shops were numbered: as soon as that was accomplished, no time was lost in collecting the materials; and now that it is finished, it may be necessary to state, that, in a work of this nature, perfect accuracy is not to be expected. The undertaking was new to the publishers, and therefore errors and omissions will no doubt be found; but it is hoped they are few and unimportant, and it can be confidently said, that neither labour nor expense has been spared to prevent them. It having been discovered that some names were omitted in the body of the book, a list has been annexed to supply them.

The publishers have to express their thanks for the facility afforded to those employed in collecting the Lists, and to their numerous Subscribers, for the encouragement they have given to the Work.

It is requested, that notice of removals and alterations may be sent to the Publishers, that subsequent editions may be as accurate as possible.
